

Provence Blanc L'Averneque — 2010

A blend of 40% Grenache White, 30% Rolle (Vermentino) and 30% Ugni Blanc, it's pale-yellow color introduces notes of stone fruits, including apricots and nectarines, giving way to citrus fruits like lime and grapefruit, finishing with floral aromas and delicate hints of almonds. Dry with a fine tension, this medium-bodied wine, is refreshing and zingy, perfect as an aperitif and on warm summer nights.

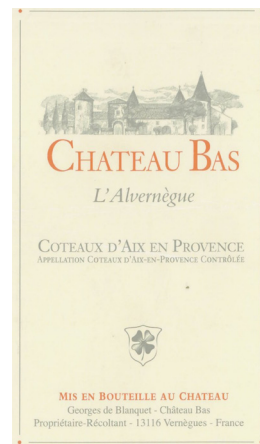

Provence Blanc L'Averneque — 2010

A blend of 40% Grenache White, 30% Rolle (Vermentino) and 30% Ugni Blanc, it's pale-yellow color introduces notes of stone fruits, including apricots and nectarines, giving way to citrus fruits like lime and grapefruit, finishing with floral aromas and delicate hints of almonds. Dry with a fine tension, this medium-bodied wine, is refreshing and zingy, perfect as an aperitif and on warm summer nights.

Provence Blanc L'Averneque — 2010

A blend of 40% Grenache White, 30% Rolle (Vermentino) and 30% Ugni Blanc, it's pale-yellow color introduces notes of stone fruits, including apricots and nectarines, giving way to citrus fruits like lime and grapefruit, finishing with floral aromas and delicate hints of almonds. Dry with a fine tension, this medium-bodied wine, is refreshing and zingy, perfect as an aperitif and on warm summer nights.

Provence Blanc L'Averneque — 2010

A blend of 40% Grenache White, 30% Rolle (Vermentino) and 30% Ugni Blanc, it's pale-yellow color introduces notes of stone fruits, including apricots and nectarines, giving way to citrus fruits like lime and grapefruit, finishing with floral aromas and delicate hints of almonds. Dry with a fine tension, this medium-bodied wine, is refreshing and zingy, perfect as an aperitif and on warm summer nights.